

Czechs Fearful Dubcek's Rule Is Nearing End

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakians fear that the Dubcek regime's program to liberalize and reform communism is nearing an end.

Ruling bodies of the Czechoslovak Communist party today planned a series of meetings to discuss the commitments forced by the Soviet Union at talks in Moscow Thursday and Friday with party chief Alexander Dubcek and Premier Oldrich Cernik. An informal gathering of party leaders was expected to be followed by a session of the 1-member presidium and finally a meeting of the 160-member central committee.

List Alternatives

Communists said the alternatives are:

- To continue the policy of seeking accommodation with Moscow, agree to semipermanent stationing of occupation troops in Czechoslovakia, and salvage as much as possible of the "post January" program to make communism more humane and democratic.

- To balk and give the Soviets the same choice they had after invading the country Aug. 20-21, that is, formation of a military government to rule Czechoslovakia.

Some Communists advanced a theory that it might be better for the country if the Dubcek regime resigned instead of losing its popularity by letting itself be used to carry out Soviet policy.

Plans For Pullout

In the Czechoslovak-Soviet statement issued as they returned from Moscow, Dubcek and Cernik agreed to sign a treaty to legalize "temporary" stationing of part of the estimated 500,000 occupation troops in Czechoslovakia. The rest would be pulled out by stages.

The Czechoslovak defense minister, Gen. Martin Dzur, said in a weekend interview he is convinced the majority would be gone by Oct. 28. One source told of conditional plans for a pullout to start Oct. 15 and run for about two months, with up to 12 divisions—or more than 150,000 Soviet soldiers—spending the winter here.

Partial troop withdrawals was the only concession to Prague in the tough, apparently Moscow-dictated joint communiqué.

The wording of the communiqué and the obligations it listed for Czechoslovakia brought despair over the future of the reform policy.

LBJ Doesn't Regret Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, on the inside looking out at the 1968 presidential race, insists he has not the slightest regret about his self-exile from the campaign.

Underneath, however, he's a bit restive. After 30-plus years in public life, much of it on a high level, it isn't easy to retire to relative obscurity.

As Johnson sees it, his historic decision of March 31 not to seek re-election may have been his only means of keeping the nation whole.

Johnson definitely misses active campaigning this year but has no plans to become a stump speaker for vice president Hubert H. Humphrey, who has his endorsement.

The President is reserving the option, however, to do some limited campaigning.

The President, looking back on nearly five years in the White House, expressed his greatest pride in his foreign policy record—precisely the area that has brought him the greatest measure of criticism both at home and abroad.

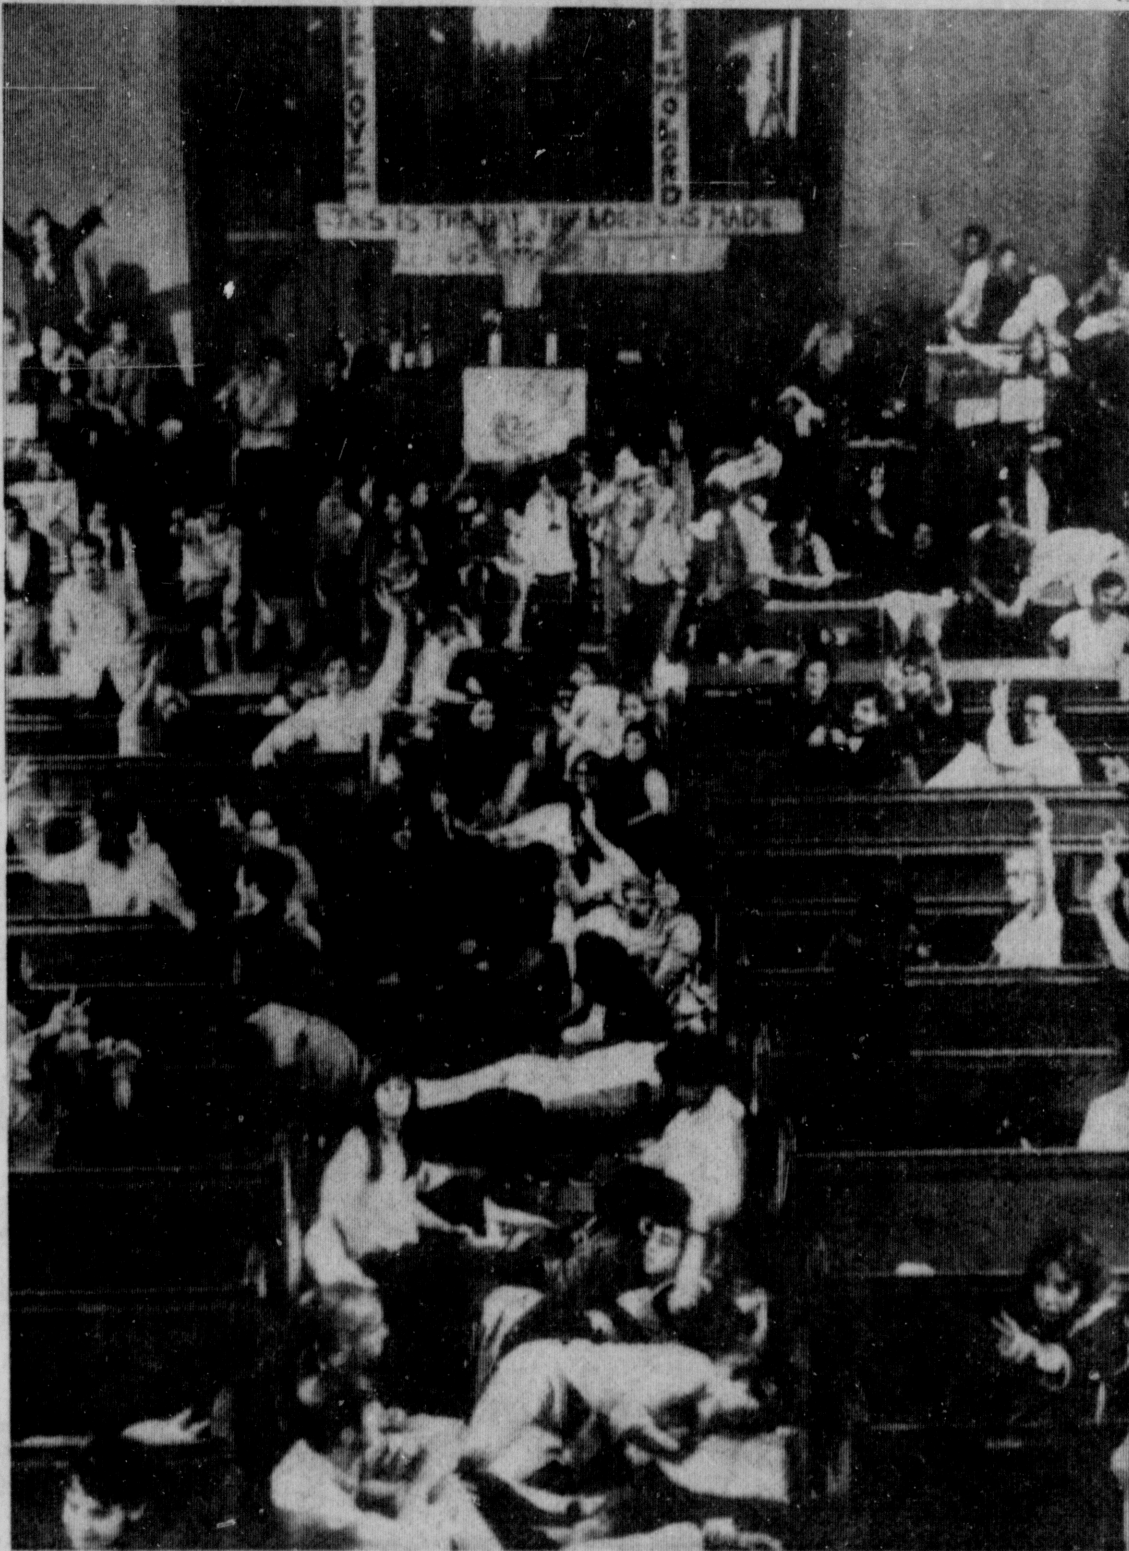

Half U.S. Priests Dissent Over Pill

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Almost half the Roman Catholic diocesan priests in the United States disagree with Pope Paul's encyclical against artificial birth control, the National Catholic Reporter said today.

The Reporter, a national lay-edited weekly with offices in Kansas City, reported results of a survey in a copyrighted story appearing in its Oct. 9 issue.

The survey, the publication reports, shows the Pope's condemnation of artificial contraception had little effect in changing the minds of priests questioned.

His encyclical, entitled "Humanae Vitae," also has exerted little influence on the advice these priests give to married Catholics, the reporter says.

Answer To Poverty Is In People: Nixon

By The Associated Press

Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon—showing a commanding lead in the three-way presidential race in two new surveys—says people and not vast new government programs are the answer to city and poverty ills.

Massive new programs, Nixon said in a Sunday night radio broadcast in New York, would only "drain the federal treasury to soothe the public conscience" and would fail.

Nixon said the reliance should be on private enterprise, and on millions of Americans he said who stand ready to help if they knew what to do.

"As government has strained to do more," he said, "our people have felt constrained to do less."

Ahead In Survey

Nixon spoke on the heels of a New York Times survey showing him leading in states with more than enough electoral votes for election—and showing Democratic candidate Hubert H. Humphrey trailing in third place behind third party candidate George C. Wallace.

A Washington Post 50-state survey also showed a commanding lead for Nixon, and a toss between Humphrey and Wallace at this point for third place.

But Wallace, in Washington to address United Press International editors and the National Press Club, disputed the Times survey and said he is going to finish first.

And Humphrey said "it's the people—and not the pollsters or anyone else" who will elect the next president.

Wallace Second

"I think I know as much as the pollsters know about what's on the people's minds in this critical election year," Humphrey said in remarks prepared for an Erie, Pa., rally.

The Times survey published Sunday showed Nixon leading in 34 states with 380 electoral votes—270 are needed for election—Wallace ahead in 7 states with 66 electoral votes and Humphrey leading in four states and the District of Columbia with a total 28 electoral votes.

The Washington Post survey showed Nixon strong or holding an edge in 32 states with 346 electoral votes, Humphrey in 6 states and the District of Columbia with 46 electoral votes and Wallace 6 states with 53 electoral votes.

But the Post rated six other states with 93 electoral votes as toss ups which could place either Humphrey or Wallace in third place at this point.

Needed Conditions

A former campaigner for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, meanwhile, said the Minnesota has set four conditions to be met before he will personally endorse Humphrey.

Gerald N. Hill, a San Francisco lawyer who headed McCarthy's campaign in California, told newsmen at a New Democratic Coalition conference in Minneapolis Sunday he had been authorized by McCarthy to release the conditions—and said none of them has been met.

Hill said they are that Humphrey agree to:

1. A halt to the bombing of North Vietnam.
2. A national election in Vietnam including "all elements" of the political structure.
3. Reform of the U.S. military draft system.
4. Reform of the Democratic party structure.

Humphrey aides had said last week they were hoping an endorsement from McCarthy, who strongly opposed Vietnam policy during his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, would rally antiwar Democrats' support to the vice president.

Stable Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 50 horses perished and about the same number fled their burning stable and ran wild Sunday night during a flash fire at a riding academy in Brooklyn.

Two of the horses were struck by cars as they raced through rain-swept streets. Police, with the aid of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, rounded up the animals.

Poll Shows Senators Favoring Bomb Halt

U.S. Staging Offensive

SAIGON (AP) — Thousands of allied troops scoured the battle-scarred mountain valleys near Khe Sanh and the jungled foothills southwest of Da Nang today in new offensives aimed at spoiling enemy attacks.

Task forces of U.S. Marines and American and South Vietnamese infantrymen met little resistance, but continued to turn up valuable enemy munitions stockpiles.

One stockpile found two miles below the center portion of the demilitarized zone yielded 200 rounds of 152mm artillery ammunition plus 100 fuses. This indicated that the enemy may be planning to move big Russian-made guns into the South. The 152s can fire a 90-pound missile 10.5 miles.

Military spokesmen, in delayed reports, announced the loss of four more American aircraft to enemy ground fire over the past three days.

They included an observation plane and a reconnaissance helicopter helping the allied ground troops search for the enemy, a Navy A7 Corsair fighter-bomber downed over North Vietnam, and an assault helicopter hit near the Cambodian border northwest of Saigon.

One of the observation planes was shot down Sunday 500 yards south of the abandoned Marine base at Khe Sanh. The pilot and artillery observer were unhurt.

The Marines returned to Khe Sanh over the weekend in a new offensive sweep through the one-time fortress, three months after giving it up for what the U.S. Command said was more flexibility and mobility.

The Marines apparently acted on intelligence reports that North Vietnamese troops had moved into Khe Sanh, but the Leathernecks went in unopposed. A U.S. spokesman said they don't plan to stay.

Khe Sanh underwent a 77-day enemy siege earlier this year, but Marines held out until it was lifted early in April by a relief force.

Reds Winning Footholds In Middle East

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—The Soviet Union has won important new footholds in Arab countries in the 16 months since the 1967 Middle East war.

The Russians have rearmaged Egypt, Syria and Iraq and increased the Soviet presence there. They are active in seven out of the Arab League's 14 states—Egypt, Syria, Iraq, Yemen, South Yemen, Algeria and Sudan.

The Kremlin has increased its naval presence in the eastern Mediterranean to a record 44 ships, including the aircraft carrier Moskva which is capable of landing Russian marines by helicopter.

Unconfirmed reports say the Russians are surveying the Syrian port of Tartus to establish facilities there. Soviet ships are said to have already established a permanent presence in Alexandria and Port Said.

Trained In Russia

Newly involved with the Soviet Union are Yemen, Sudan and the former British colony of Aden, now called the South Yemen People's Republic.

Last December, when the pullout of Egyptian troops from Yemen was imminent, the Russians agreed to supply the republican government with a squadron each of fighters and bombers.

In April, a shipment of 22 tanks plus rocket-equipped armored vehicles, self-propelled guns and ammunition arrived in Yemen. Forty Yemeni officers went to Russia last month for weapons training.

Arms Agreement

Now the Yemen premier and strongman, Lt. Gen. Hassan el Amri, is in Moscow to work out a new arms agreement. He has said a new offensive by his royalist opponents, backed by neighboring pro-Western Saudi Arabia, is imminent.

Sudan, in Africa, has signed a $96-million arms agreement with Russia, including MIG jets, anti-aircraft weapons and tanks. Sudanese officers are in the Soviet Union for training.

Following the approval of the arms deal in July, a new Soviet ambassador was appointed in Khartoum because, in the words of Pravda, "the atmosphere is becoming ever more favorable for the development of cooperation" with Communist countries.

Thieu Asks War Be Scaled Down

SAIGON (AP) — President

Nguyen Van Thieu declared today the enemy has failed in every attempt to bring "disastrous consequences" to South Vietnam in 1968.

But he said that for peace to be realized the Hanoi regime must acknowledge its aggression and agree to abandon its attempts to take over South Vietnam.

"The most reasonable way to end this war is for both sides to scale down the level of hostilities leading gradually to a cease-fire effectively controlled and guaranteed," Thieu said in a speech to the National Assembly in the first anniversary of the creation of the body.

Speaking in the Senate chamber with Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky and Premier Tran Van Huong in attendance, Thieu emphasized that he believes South Vietnam is militarily and politically gaining the upper hand in the war.

"I reaffirm today that we will not concede any portion of our territory to the Communist aggressors, and we will not accept any form of coalition with the Communists," he said.

He said Hanoi had agreed to preliminary talks in Paris, but he added "the Communist aggressors have a greater responsibility to de-escalate this war than we, the defenders. By refusing to respond to our gesture of goodwill in de-escalating this war, the Communists are obstructing the peace talks."

Food Stamp, Housing Programs Cut Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today cut deeply from the administration's request for funds to launch its new low-income housing program, and to expand the food stamp program.

Also sharply trimmed by the committee were requests for money to enable the administration to enforce the new open housing law, and for a juvenile delinquency control program.

The cuts were made in the final appropriations bill of the year, which the committee reduced from $270 million requested by the administration to $101 million.

In a report accompanying the bill, the committee said it "is not impressed with the urgency of all the programs and has provided only for those that are most important."

The House, scheduled to take the bill up Tuesday, is likely to go along with nearly all the recommended cuts.

Chief casualties were the food stamp program, which Congress recently expanded, and the new housing program designed to increase home ownership among low and moderate income families and make more rental housing available to them.

President Johnson asked for $90 million in additional funds for the food stamp program, which helps poor families get more food for their money.

Congress recently authorized that much of an increase, but the committee trimmed the appropriation itself to $20 million. The funds would be in addition to $225 million already appropriated for this fiscal year.

Under the new housing program the federal government helps pay the interest costs on building low-income housing.

Johnson asked for $11.5 million, sufficient to contract for $150 million worth of such housing this year, but the committee recommended spending only $5 million, which would limit contract authority to $60 million.

HHH Vietnam Policy Speech Sparks Survey

WASHINGTON (AP) — At least half the Senate favors one plan or another to halt U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

Twenty-seven senators of the 85 who responded to an Associated Press survey said they favor an unconditional bombing halt. They are opposed by 18 senators who said there should be no further bombing reduction in the current stage of the war.

In between were 23 senators who said they would insist on some matching action by Hanoi, either in reducing the level of the fighting or in compromises at the bargaining table in Paris.

The 18 who oppose any reduction of the air predicted that a bombing halt would result in wholesale military infiltration from the North and stepped up, costly ground action in the South by Communist units taking advantage of a toothless American air dragon.

Experimental Basis

The senators who said they want the bombing halted unconditionally—at least on an experimental basis—maintained it would be an acceptable risk in an all-out attempt to end the fighting.

The AP survey was conducted after the flurry of congressional and political debate sparked by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's Sept. 30 Vietnam policy speech.

Humphrey said that as president he would consider stopping all bombing "as an acceptable risk for peace." He said that before acting he would "place key importance on evidence—direct or indirect, by deed or word—of Communist willingness to restore the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam."

Some Campaigning

He said that should the Hanoi government "show bad faith, I would reserve the right to resume the bombing."

All senators contacted were asked: "Do you presently favor a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam, either unconditionally or predicated on Hanoi's advance assurances of a reciprocal gesture?"

Seventeen of those contacted declined to comment. Fifteen others—many of them on the campaign trail—could not be reached.

Two remarks appeared to indicate the depth of division still remaining in the Senate which, if the issue arose, might be consulted by the White House but would have no direct policy making role.

"I would favor an unconditional bombing halt with no ifs, ands or buts," said Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I. "I would also reserve the option to resume the bombing if they show any signs of taking military advantage of it."

Muddy The Water

"I think Vice President Humphrey's approach—with its ifs, ands and buts and hopefully reciprocal signs from Hanoi—will do nothing but muddy the waters, is too hypothetical for a stable response from Hanoi and really serves no useful purpose," declared Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah.

Aides to Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., referred reporters to position papers issued this summer by McCarthy when—as a candidate for his party's presidential nomination—he became the leading symbol of those determined to end the war.

McCarthy proposed then an unconditional bombing halt as part of a total program to end the fighting and bring stability to the area.

Nixon's Makeup Man With HHH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sid Simmons, the makeup man who prepared Richard M. Nixon for his second television debate with John F. Kennedy in 1960, is now working for Hubert H. Humphrey.

Simmons, owner of a Chicago cosmetics firm, follows the vice president everywhere with a makeup kit big enough to hold a bowling ball.

Television makes such precautions necessary, as Nixon found out after his first debate with Kennedy. Viewers thought Nixon looked pallid for that one, so he has used makeup ever since.

Youth, 18, Sought After Jail Flight

An 18-year-old Rock youth who State Police arrested Sunday on a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile was free again today after he bolted away from officers and out the front door of the Delta County jail as he was being booked Sunday night.

Area law officers have been alerted to look for Clifton A. Bellows, who was described as being about 5 feet, 10 inches tall, weighing 150 pounds with brown eyes, brown hair and a goatee-type beard.

Officers said he was wearing a green jacket when he escaped from custody.

Two State Police officers who had brought Bellows and Joseph L. Peterson, also 18 of Rock, to the jail chased Bellows, but were unable to locate him in the dark about 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Troopers indicated that Bellows could be involved in another automobile theft which was reported about 4:35 a.m. today by Wayne Johnson, Rte. 1, Gladstone. Johnson told police his 1964-model Chevrolet station wagon was missing. Troopers said the car is blue and has license RN-8378.

Bellows and Peterson were arrested Sunday after investigation of an auto theft reported Saturday by David Koski of Rock.

Koski's car was taken from his yard Saturday night. Mrs. Koski told police that she noticed the trunk of the car open and called for her husband. By the time he went out into the yard, the car was leaving.

Officers located the car Sunday and arrested Peterson and Bellows. Peterson remained in the Delta County jail today pending arraignment.

Suspend Board In School Spat

NEW YORK (AP) — The Board of Education, acting to forestall a third strike threatened by teachers against the city's 1.1-million-pupil public school system, has suspended the controversial governing board of Brooklyn's Ocean Hill-Brownsville district.

The board announced Sunday a 30-day suspension of the local board and directed Superintendent of Schools Bernard E. Donovan to assume direct supervision of Ocean Hill's eight schools.

The suspension stemmed from the local board's steady refusal, backed by parents and demonstrators in the predominantly Puerto Rican and Negro section, to take back 85 teachers.

The AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers has a new strike vote set for today.

The teachers have walked out twice since the city's 900 schools opened Sept. 9 for the fall term.

The controversy stems from the board's dismissal of 10 teachers last spring. About 100 others walked out in sympathy. Eighty-five of the teachers want to return to the district's schools.

An impartial arbitrator cleared the original 10 teachers of alleged insubordination.

Ruppe Urges Partnership In National Reform

SAULT STE. MARIE — In the keynote address to the fall meeting of Michigan Jaycees Saturday, Congressman Philip Ruppe said the United States is entering a "watershed decade" comparable to the original American revolution.

Ruppe said the nation either will resist change and fail or we will "welcome it and channel it into a better tomorrow."

Ruppe outlined problems of overcrowded, seething cities, depleted rural areas and pollution which threatens rivers and streams. He said the traditional answer of direct government action is failing because problems are too huge.

He called on private industry to enter into partnership with government in attacking the problem.

Consider Hart For High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie said Sunday that he would be delighted if Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., were nominated as Chief Justice of the United States.

The Democratic vice presidential nominee said, however, he did not know whether President Johnson might nominate Hart to replace retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren.

In reply to the question on the CBS television program, "Face the Nation," Muskie also commented "If any senator could command this kind of support from the Senate, Phil Hart could."

Contacted in Detroit about Muskie's remarks, Hart said he "thinks it's almost graceless or tasteless for me" to make any comment.

He said he has not been asked whether he would accept the nomination, adding "perhaps I never will be asked."

"If asked I really don't know how I would react," Hart said. Hart has been a supporter of the nomination of Abe Fortas, which was withdrawn by Johnson last week at the request of Fortas.

Fighting Bloody In Londonderry

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A weekend of bloody outbreaks in Londonderry by nationalists against the government of Northern Ireland injured 96 demonstrators, police and bystanders, officials reported.

Shopkeepers in Northern Ireland's second largest city worked into the night Sunday in streets littered with stones to replace windows smashed in the clashes between police and demonstrators.

Six policemen and a fireman were hurt in the skirmishes. Demonstrators threw stones and police in steel helmets, supported by a water cannon, broke up a crowd of 800 with a baton charge.

Crowds of teen-agers smashed windows in the central part of the city and a police car was hit by a firebomb.

The violence erupted with nationalists charging discrimination against Northern Ireland's Roman Catholic minority. Most Catholics under the northern Ulster government want to unite with the Irish Republic to the south.

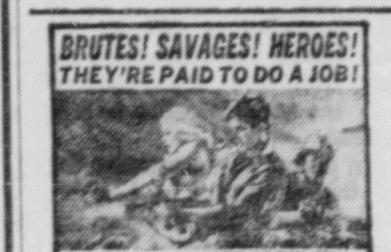

Demonstrations began Saturday with a civil rights march protesting alleged abuses against Catholics in housing, employment and voting regulations.

Thirty demonstrators, including a member of Parliament, were hurt in clashes Saturday afternoon. The list of injured tripled Sunday and included three children.

Charges of police brutality were raised and the government in London was asked to hold an inquiry. The British government, however, handles defense and foreign relations for Northern Ireland but leaves police matters in Irish hands.

Zion Church, Wilson, Marks 75 Years

Bishop George R. Selway, D. D., of the Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan praised the ministry of the laity of Zion Lutheran Church at Wilson for having kept the little rural church alive at its 75th anniversary service at 4 p.m. Sunday.

The church was filled for the diamond jubilee.

Bishop Selway said he had known all but three of the 15 clergymen who have served the Zion Church and that all of them had reported that they had spent some of the happiest times of their lives at Wilson.

"The greatest compliment and thanks on this occasion, however," said Bishop Selway, "must go to the laymen, who for 75 years held the congregation together and provided new life for the church program and showed a continuing concern for its mission."

Laymen Important

"The clergy joins me in recognition of your devoted work through the years. We must be concerned now with what the ministry of laymen will do with the church in the future. So much has depended on you and will in the future. Not much can be done by the clergy alone."

"The layman is here, day after day in touch with human life. It is up to you to carry the message of Christ, to your community."

"The great question used to be if a community can support a church. That is no longer the question. Now the question is: Does a church, by its revealing power, support a community?"

The evening prayer service that marked the anniversary was conducted by Bishop Selway, Rev. Ben Helmer, pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Escanaba; Rev. Canon J. William Robertson, and Rev. Philip Nancarrow of Trinity Church, Gladstone and Zion Church, Wilson. Mrs. Harland

Hansen sang the offertory with accompaniment by Mrs. Marvin Ray. A buffet supper was served after the service.

History Of Area

Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, spoke on the history of the Wilson area and the creation of Zion Church. Most important to the early area development, said Worth, was Jesse Spalding, born at Athens, Penna., in 1833 of a family in America since 1633, with 52 members serving in the Revolutionary War and 9 of them in the Battle of Bunker Hill.

Spalding was a lumber raftsman on the Susquehanna River as a boy, became a lumber salesman, went to Chicago in 1860 to learn about lumbering opportunities in the Midwest. He came north as far as the Menominee River, where he bought an interest in a sawmill. Two years later he bought the mill at Cedar River and that led to his purchase of 140,000 acres of timberland in upper Menominee County to supply logs for the Cedar River mill.

The Chicago & North Western built its line through Wilson in 1872 and for the first time logs and lumber could be moved out of the timbered area by rail as well as down the Big Cedar River. Lemoyne, Hubbard & Woods, bought the Spalding holdings in 1874, and built a sawmill at Spalding, but the firm failed and Spalding got the property back, selling the southern half to S. Crawford & Sons in 1898 and the north part to Ross Brothers, of Manistique, whose lands passed into the ownership of U.S. Steel Corp., the present owners.

Spalding Township was created in 1877, Wilson School in 1881 (Spalding Township got up to 16 schools in the lumber boom). Frank D. Willson, one of the first settlers, built a large

Rusk, Gromyko In Dinner Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko exchanged views on a broad range of world problems Sunday night during a three-hour dinner meeting that both sides called useful.

The meeting was the first extensive conference between the two diplomats since Soviet troops invaded Czechoslovakia Aug. 20 and put a chill in international relations.

Gromyko, coming from Rusk's 42nd floor suite at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel Sunday night, told reporters no agreements were reached but "these discussions were useful."

Gromyko said he and Rusk touched on the Vietnam war, the Middle East, disarmament, European security and U.S. Soviet relations.

He said they discussed no specific date for starting talks on limitation of missiles and anti-missiles that their governments have agreed to enter into.

As to whether they made any progress on the Middle East, the Soviet foreign minister asserted he would "prefer not to say yes and not to say no."

U.S. officials issued the same list of subjects. They too called the talks useful but said no agreements were reached and no arrangements were made for future meetings.

Death Claims Mrs. Anderson

Mrs. Gust E. (Hilma Marie) Anderson of 903 S. 14th St. died at 12:30 p.m. Sunday at St. Francis Hospital where she had been a patient for 11 days.

Group Fights Aerial Spraying

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — A New York-based conservation minded organization is attempting to stop for the second time an aerial spray campaign in Berrien County to control a Japanese Beetle infestation.

The Environmental Defense Fund, Inc., has filed suit in Milwaukee district federal court to halt the application of the hard pesticide Dieldrin to 4,000 acres in Berrien County by the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Last year the organization was successful in delaying the aerial spray program although federal and state courts filed in favor of the agriculture department.

A hearing on the latest suit is scheduled Wednesday before Chief Judge Robert E. Tahan at Milwaukee. The suit filed by Atty. Victor J. Yannacone Jr., of Patchogue, N.Y., names as defendants the Michigan Department of Agriculture, its director, Dale Ball, Dean Lovitt, chief of the department's plant industry division, and Donald White, regional supervisor in Southwest Michigan for the division.

The suit seeks an injunction to prevent the use of Dieldrin in the spray program. The defense fund claims use of the pesticide would cause damage to plant and fish life in Lake Michigan.

The agriculture department and area farmers claim economic losses would result if the beetle is not controlled. Ball claims twice as much Dieldrin would be required this year as last to control an expanding area of infestation.

Detroit Police Hard On Scalpers

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit police campaign to thwart World Series ticket scalping led to 18 arrests at Tiger Stadium over the weekend.

They were ordered to appear in traffic court today on charges of selling baseball tickets without a license. Maximum penalty if convicted is a 90-day jail sentence and a $100 fine.

Police said they have not confiscated any large blocs of tickets.

The persons arrested have come from such faraway places as Atlanta, New York City, Pittsburgh, and Webster, Mass.

U.S. Third Reich?

George Wallace is so much in the news these days of the Presidential campaign that we offer an effort at study of the man the book "Wallace" by Marshall Frady, as reviewed by Ronnie Dugger in the current Saturday Review.

Dugger rates the book on the Presidential wildcat as less literature than data and explains that Frady is a native Georgian who has done most of his reporting in the South and who is one of "those decent Southern white liberals who lament for their region while sympathizing, of course, with the Negroes."

Dugger faults Frady on romanticizing racism and hate. "In a novel this might pass, in a biography of the nation's most effective racist, it does not. Frady presents Wallace as a democratic hero.

He's gutsy, driven and wily, suggests Dugger, but his hidden advantage is the contempt with which supercilious liberals approach him. Frady is credited with churning out a lot of bunk in the Southern novelist tradition, but also with having produced, somehow, a book that's worth reading, and certainly we all need to now about George Wallace. In the polls he's getting about one vote out of five for President and it becomes possible that if the House of Representatives selects the next President on the basis of one-state, one-vote, Wallace may have the influence to decide the outcome.

Wallace contends that he has nothing against Negroes and has Negro support. Frady reminds us that shortly before becoming governor of Alabama in 1962 Wallace said: "I'm gonna maww race the basis of politics in this state, and I'm gonna make it the basis of politics in this country." He operates on the assumption, says Frady, that "Niggus hate whites, and whites hate Niggus. Everybody knows that deep down."

Wallace, as a judge in 1953 prohibited the removal of segregation signs in railroad terminals but after an opponent beat him for governor in 1958 by being more racist than he was he announced "I'm not goin' to be out-niggued again." And he hasn't been.

Frady won't let his readers forget that Wallace is a racist although Wallace seems to be banking in national politics on the old political axiom that voters can't remember more than two years back. A former Alabama senator says Wallace is using "a kind of code" to let people know he's telling them: "A Nigger's trying to get your job, trying to move into your neighborhood."

Standing tough in the Alabama desegregation crisis he said he'd never submit to integration of any school system in Alabama but he was already double-talking as he told Attorney General Robert Kennedy "I have nothing against people of opposite color . . . I just don't believe in social and educational mixing."

It is immensely revealing, of course, that while Wallace campaigns on a platform of "law and order" he has in Alabama defied the law and encouraged armed confrontation. In his fight with the federal court on desegregation in Alabama, Wallace says Frady "toyed with the idea of assembling a kind of statewide vigilante posse of 100,000 volunteers" so when the troops come, we'll have a few folks waitin' for em."

Frady isn't specific on the point, but he suggests the danger that Wallace could lead the United States into totalitarianism. He notes that if any state is totalitarian, it's Alabama and that it belongs to Wallace. A state senator there in opposing Wallace's bid to have the state constitution set aside so he could run for a third term as governor, warned that Wallace was going "to pit the white race against the minorities (Negroes) in this country the same way Adolf Hitler pitted the master race (Germans) against the Jews."

Frady credits Wallace with a saving grace of being a populist (member of the people's party.) Dugger says this is garbage and quotes tougher minded William Bradford from True in July, 1968: "Newsmen have called Wallace a Populist. This is a horrible mistake."

Bradford said as governor Wallace raised sales taxes on food to 6 per cent, punished his poor whites as well as poor Negroes by boosting the beer and tobacco taxes, doubling driver license fees and tripling auto license tags while preventing any increase in property or income taxes.

He killed all proposals for a minimum wage law, preserved the state's right-to-work (anti-union) law and made sure that Alabama's workmen's compensation law remains the most unfavorable for labor in the nation.

In short, he took care of the rich.

Frady thinks it was unsporting of Senator Wayne Morse to have mentioned that Wallace was discharged from the Army with a nervous disability but himself notes a confusing discontinuity in Wallace's talk and an egomania that shows up in the extreme attention he gives to Wallace stickers on passing cars.

It seems clear enough and yet the Wallace strength seems to grow.

BEST WAY TO SEE IT LIKE IT IS!

Nixon Is Confident But He Isn't Cocky

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
SEATTLE (NEA) — Three weeks into the campaign, the public Richard Nixon is confident of victory but not cocky. Yet the private Nixon is, as always, a worrier, and he will believe it when he sees the winning 270 votes on the electoral scoreboard Nov. 5.

The Republican nominee takes confidence, of course, from a stream of published and private surveys showing him ahead of Vice President Humphrey in virtually all of the big states and many others. Indeed, George Wallace, with his southern inroads, has more locked-up strength than Humphrey.

But there is more. Nixon's competent managers are extremely adept at buttressing the cold arithmetic of electoral vote calculation with the warming comforts of visible, audible support.

Republicans have always been good at filling the hall. Even Barry Goldwater's people managed it in 1964, though his motorcade routes were nearly bare of crowds.

The Nixon mastery of this operation is, however, unsurpassed. From the first cold, bleak nights in New Hampshire last February up to these early autumn days, the halls have been crammed to the doors and enlivened by thumping bands, gaily costumed Nixon girls and, above all, a bright forest of waving balloons.

Humphrey has not yet discovered the balloon. But Nixon knows it for what it is—a symbol of soaring optimism. At a Sioux Falls airport rally, hundreds of them were pushed out of a truck door to drift skyward like cheerful victory signals.

Even things Nixon is doing to smooth his once-strained relations with the traveling press are a useful part of his own reassurance.

His own jet and the two jet press planes are marvels of creamy white spaciousness and ease. On the "Julie," the principal press plane, there is even a small electric piano this time, so Nixon can come aboard and do return engagements of the relaxed piano songfest he offered at Key Biscayne after his nomination in Miami Beach.

Like the halls along the way, the jet entourage has about it the smell and sound of success. It is as if the elusive aura of victory had been packaged and brought along for steady reassurance and enjoyment.

Outdoor arrangements are not so readily governed. Still, the Nixon people time and stage their open rallies in the streets and squares and on capitol steps with exquisite care. They move the candidate through downtown areas at high noon when the citizens are out, and drum out thousands with blaring television, radio and sound truck invitations. David Merrick could not do it better on Broadway.

The managers know their man. Anyone who traveled with Nixon in his 1960 race against the late John F. Kennedy knows what real joy he finds in the full street and the noisy hall—and how he tries to translate his pleasure into language for his listeners that suggests a kind of climate of inevitability.

At Bismark, N. D., he told them, typically:

"Everywhere we go the crowd is like this. You see its enthusiasms. You see its youth. It's not just North Dakota and it's not just South Dakota. Across this nation something is happening. There is a great surge over the country . . ."

Often he recites the crowd estimates at his appearances in Chicago, San Francisco, Philadelphia and other places, and the figures have a tendency to grow in the retelling.

Yet beneath the traveling facade of relaxed confidence, Richard Nixon and his men, also typically, still fret.

Press In Vietnam Is Doing Its Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barry Zorthian, who spent five years as spokesman for U.S. officials in Vietnam, says the press is doing its job in Vietnam, even though the qualifications of some correspondents are doubtful.

"Let there be no doubt," said Zorthian Friday before the National Press Club, "that whatever the discomfort on occasion for officials, the press in Vietnam played its historic and proper role. The zealous judge of the government's performance, the independent interpreter of events."

But he noted that many of the 4,000 correspondents who have covered the war weren't properly prepared emotionally, professionally or educationally.

Zorthian, who left Vietnam earlier this year, served as spokesman under two ambassadors.

Oswald: "It is a pretty good rule to win a trick when you can, on the theory that it might never come back to you, but there are plenty of occasions when it is far better to hold off for awhile."

Jim: "They say that aces were made to take kings. They also were made to take queens, jacks and even deuces. The winning player will take his aces when they will do him the most good."

Oswald: "I made four no-trump with the South hand. There was no problem in the play. I ducked the first club and won the second. Then I led a diamond and called for dummy's king. East said 'Not through the Iron Duke,' and produced the ace. Later on I finessed against West's jack and made my 10 easy tricks."

Jim: "It was certainly fine co-operation on the part of the Iron Duke. If they gave a special bonus to a player who made his trick early, he would have been in line."

Oswald: "West wanted to know what I would have done if East had quietly ducked that first diamond. Naturally, I told him that I would have been able to come back to my hand, lead a second diamond and play dummy's nine."

Jim: "You might have done that. My guess is that you would have tried to win the next diamond with the queen, whereupon East would take his ace and West would make his jack and two club tricks later on."

Oswald: "If I were playing against top opposition, I might still be sitting there trying to guess which diamond to play. Against this East, I would surely have gone wrong but it is all academic. He is not capable of holding back an ace when it can take a king."

I believe that America is not going to meet the problems of racism until it accepts the need for a redistribution of power in political and economic institutions. Poverty cannot be ended until power and responsibility are democratically shared—black people are poor because they are powerless and powerless because they are black.—Sen. Eugene J. Druggist Checks Her Muscle Tone

Dear Ann Landers: I am about 15 pounds overweight and have tried all sorts of diets which didn't work. A friend of mine told me about some reducing pills which did wonders for her. I got a few pills for myself and took them to my doctor. He said they would probably not help me but they wouldn't hurt me and if I wanted to take them I could.

Well, Ann, the pills are doing the trick and I am very thrilled. My only problem is the druggist. He refuses to give me more than six pills at a time. He takes me back in the stock room and feels all over and then says, "Yes, your musculature is fine. No breakdown of tissue."

If my husband knew about this he'd knock the guy's block off. I don't know whether or not to say anything because it may be that he is behaving in a professional manner and means nothing personal.

Please tell me what you know about this. — MINUS TEN

Dear Minus: I know that a druggist is supposed to fill prescriptions—not massage the customers. Get your physician to recommend some exercises for you and let him check your "musculature" periodically.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have four daughters, 10, 12, 14 and 15. Ted works 25 miles from home. For the last two years he has been wanting to move across the Bay. He says the added time and energy would result in better commissions. Also he is dead tired when he gets home and complains more and more about the heavy traffic and the exhausting drive.

Whenever he brings up the subject the girls cry. They don't want to leave their life-long friends. The oldest one is going steady. We keep reading articles about traumatic changes hurting children. The last thing our 15-year-old said was, "Money isn't everything."

Will you please give us some balanced counsel? Our kids have made us feel like morons. —SAN FRANCISCO

Dear San: Show me a family run by children and I will show you a couple of cowards. If in your husbands judgment he would do better on the other side of the Bay, he should tell the girls to start packing. They might love it. There are boys in Oakland, too, you know.

Dear Ann Landers: When you pay for an article and the change is under 5c, should you stand around and wait? I have asked several friends and they are as bewildered as I. It's a comfort (but no help) to know that others feel foolish, too—waiting for 2 or 3c. Yet, they are reluctant to leave because they are afraid the clerk will be insulted. Yes or no? —NO PENNY COLLECTOR

Dear No Collector: By all means wait. Offhand I can think of two good reasons: (1) If you don't wait you'll lose out on the bookkeeper's balancing act. (2) If you DO wait you'll save some pennies in your pocket for your next purchase.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents . . . if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How To Get More Freedom." Send 50c in coin with your request and a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Fifty Year Reunion Of 'Lost Battalion'

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifty years ago Sunday, David Tulchin crouched in a foxhole in the Argonne Forest in France, ducking German bullets and wondering how long he would survive.

Tulchin, now 74, sat in the dining room of a Manhattan hotel Sunday, exchanging reminiscences with 25 other survivors of the World War I battle.

The 26 are among 70 men, scattered in 18 states, who were part of the so-called Lost Battalion which was trapped behind German lines, but whose members stood their ground for five days and five nights against overwhelming odds.

Out of 554 men from the First Battalion, 308th Infantry, 77th Division of the American Expeditionary Forces who began the battle only 193 survived.

All Draftees

Each year, the steadily dwindling number of survivors meet for a reunion.

"We were all drafted men," recalled Tulchin, who is retired now and lives with his wife of more than 30 years in an apartment on Manhattan's upper West Side. "I was just an office worker when I was drafted."

Of the battle, Tulchin said, "We advanced until we found ourselves surrounded by Germans although actually it wasn't until the morning after the siege began that we knew we were surrounded. You expected that by lunchtime the problem would be solved."

Used Old Bandages

But the men of the battalion held off the Germans from the night of Oct. 2 until the night of Oct. 7 when help arrived.

"We had no food, no ammunition, no medical supplies," Tulchin said. "As people died and somebody else was wounded, there was nothing you could do but take the old bandage and reapply it."

Finally, said Tulchin, "on the evening of Oct. 7 the rest of the American troops got through."

Rescue brought no sense of relief, however, Tulchin said, "because in the Army, it might get worse the next day."

Tulchin returned to New York in May 1919, and got a job in a stationery store. Later, he went back to office work and retired several years ago.

Couple Wins Suit; Abortion Refused

NEW YORK (AP) — A Brooklyn couple won $110,000 in damages Friday from a hospital that refused to perform an abortion on the wife, who later gave birth to a physically and mentally handicapped child.

The plaintiffs were Robert Stewart, 29; his wife, Barbara, 26, and their daughter Roslyn, who was born Jan. 4, 1965, totally deaf, partially blind, mentally retarded and spastic, and with a defective heart.

The defendant in Brooklyn Supreme Court was Long Island College Hospital in Brooklyn, where Mrs. Stewart had sought an abortion on the ground that she had contracted German measles which could injure the unborn child.

In their $500,000 suit, the couple charged the hospital with malpractice and negligence on two counts—failure to perform the abortion, and failure to advise Mrs. Stewart of the danger of continuing her pregnancy or to inform her where an abortion could be obtained.

Mrs. Stewart testified she had entered the hospital in her 14th week of pregnancy. She said she showed the hospital a letter from her private physician stating that she had contracted German measles five weeks after she became pregnant.

'69 Kingswood Estate 3-Seat Walk-In Wagon

Chevrolet introduces the walk-in wagon.

Here's a wagon that welcomes you in the back door without making you stoop over to keep from banging your head.

Now you simply walk up a step in the bumper and walk down a step inside. Then you simply turn around and sit right down. Don't worry. We've slanted the back-end to help avoid the roof from bumping your head.

Another thoughtful design is our dual-action tailgate. Its concealed door openers won't catch a sleeve like an outside handle.

And another: You can specify washers for the headlights.

Still another: Tri-Level loading in most wagons. Order a roof rack for carrying convenience on top, in addition to the load space you have inside and under the rear floor.

Our '69 wagons also are big on looks and performance. One quick example is the new 327-cubic-inch engine, standard in many models. It's the largest standard V8 in its field.

Look over both our wagon sizes, biggest and big. Even the names are new. All at your Chevrolet dealer's now.

Just walk in.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

Dutch Princess Trains As Singer

MONTREAL (AP) — Princess Christina of the Netherlands arrived from Amsterdam Sunday to begin training as a professional singer.

The 21-year-old princess has already passed the tough admission examination of the Institut Supérieure de la Musique Vincent d-Indy.

Fire Hits Casino

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A fire chased gamblers, cocktail waitresses and other employees from the Flamingo Hotel casino and convention center Sunday.

The automatic sprinkler system dumped thousands of gallons of water into the casino and a glassed-in cocktail lounge and dancing area.

One woman was briefly hospitalized. Firemen estimated damage at $300,000.

Election Operation Is Mighty Expensive

LANSING (AP) — Choosing leaders by periodic election may be a good political system but it's also an expensive one, reports the man who supervises the process in Michigan.

In fact, says Secretary of State James Hare, it's a multimillion-dollar operation.

For instance, he says, the state has 5,385 voting precincts. "If you take a conservative estimate of just five persons working at each polling place and an equally conservative estimate of pay based on $15 a day, this item alone amounts to over $400,000."

Actually, he adds, more than 25,000 election workers are hired on election day.

Printing ballots costs well over $500,000, and the state owns some $15 million worth of voting machines, he adds. The machines must be stored, set up and transported, says Hare, and transportation costs for some machines may run as high as $50.

Then the boards of canvassers in the state's 83 counties are called in to examine and certify the voting returns.

"This is only the administrative setup and machinery to conduct elections," Hare notes. "You have to tack on millions of dollars spent in campaigning by hundreds of candidates, and you have a multimillion-dollar expense item each time Michigan's voters cast their ballots."

Hare also estimates that nearly 90 per cent of Michigan's voters will cast their ballots on voting machines in the Nov. 5 election.

The April registration showed 3,336,803 eligible voters in the state, of whom 2,838,120, or about 85 per cent, lived in machine precincts.

The state has 4,067 machine precincts and 1,316 which use paper ballots, he adds.

Only four of the state's 83 counties—Bay, Ottawa, Muskegon and Kalamazoo—have completely converted to machines, Hare says. But he adds that 31 counties are more than 50 per cent converted and that 66 counties have at least one machine.

The changeover to machines was most pronounced between 1955 and 1958, Hare adds, when the number of machine precincts climbed from 1,700 to nearly 3,300.

Jackie Robinson Hits GOP Plan To Prevent Votes

DETROIT (AP)—Jackie Robinson, baseball's first Negro Hall-of-Famer, who is working for Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey, charged Sunday that Republicans decided at a secret New York strategy session to try to keep the Negro vote at home.

"They're going to send militants into the black community to keep people home," by contending there is no difference between the candidates, Robinson told reporters as he flew here with Humphrey to attend the World Series.

Robinson, who said his information came from "a very reliable source" who attended the meeting held after the Democratic National Convention, said "every 'no vote' means a vote for Richard Nixon."

"It didn't work in 1964 when they tried to get us to vote for Martin Luther King," Robinson added in predicting failure of the strategy. Recent polls have shown Humphrey stands a good chance of winning the same overwhelming Negro support President Johnson had in 1964 if the Negroes vote.

The former Brooklyn Dodger star, who resigned last August as assistant to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, criticized Negro leaders, such as Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., who is backing Nixon and Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich., who has been cool to Humphrey. "Any black man who has any concern for the future of the United States has to go out and work and make sure Mr. Humphrey is elected president," he said.

Vespers Held For Six Plane Victims

HONOLULU (AP) — Vesper services were held at the Christian Reformed Church Sunday for six young people who disappeared in a small plane Sept. 23.

The six were on a sightseeing trip to Hilo on Hawaii Island when their single-engine plane disappeared. A week-long search by land, sea and air failed to turn up any clue to what happened to the rented plane or its occupants.

The Rev. Edward Knott, vice president of the Christian Reformed Board of the Hawaiian Missions, helped in the evening service. He is also pastor of the Beverly Christian Reformed Church in Wyoming, Mich., the home town of two of the missing people, Marilyn Vis, 21, and Betty Boer, 22.

Six white carnation leis draped in front of the pulpit were later dropped into the Pacific from a plane.

Jewelry Stolen

STUDIO CITY, Calif. (AP) — In the few hours between a farewell party and Warren Ott's scheduled departure for the Middle East, the young actress and her family were robbed of $250,000 worth of jewelry and cash.

Miss Ott's father, retired Navy Cmdr. William Ott, said the family discovered the loss early Sunday after the party.

The 23-year-old actress, under contract to Paramount Studios is starting work on a new film in the Mideast.

Hit Red Trucks

SAIGON (AP) — Navy Lt. Kenneth R. Adams, 26, of Westland, Mich., was with a flight of Skyhawk pilots that tore up a convoy of supply trucks in the panhandle of North Vietnam Sunday.

"There were four trucks lined up in a row, but they were hard to see because they were covered with brown canvas," Adams said. "Our bombs went right in on them."

Killed By Train

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Richard Hinz, 26, escaped serious injury in a collision Sunday in which the other motorist, Roy Stevens, 48, was killed. As ambulance attendants removed the body, Hinz—standing beside wreckage of his car on the railroad tracks—was struck and killed by a passing freight train.

The '69 Ford is the car that's creating all the talk. You ought to know the reasons.

The '69 Ford hugs the road with a track as wide as Cadillac . . . smooths your ride with a longer wheelbase than Chevrolet. This '69 LTD is designed to ride quieter than the LTD that was quieter than Rolls-Royce. It has more front headroom, legroom and trunk space than cars costing hundreds of dollars more. Even with a longer wheelbase, it's easier to handle, easier to park.

This is a new luxury-size Ford at a very popular price. Big. Strong. Quiet. A great road car. Drive one at your Ford Dealer's now.

Plane Lands On Car; Two Unhurt

BAGLEY, Minn. (AP) — People may not believe Herbert Pooch when he explains the damage to his car by saying "a plane landed on it," but that's what happened.

The 63-year-old man was driving along a highway near here Sunday when he heard a noise and saw a propeller and wheels. George Fletcher, 35, told authorities his small airplane developed engine trouble and he decided to land on the highway. While carefully watching oncoming traffic, he said, he failed to notice Pooch's car below him.

Neither man was hurt.

Researchers' Aim Is Resistant Elm Tree

EAST LANSING (AP) — Elm seedlings from all across the world may help Michigan State University researchers find a type of tree resistant to the deadly Dutch Elm disease.

It could take years—but Dr. Jonathan W. Wright and colleagues sound optimistic.

"The odds are very good that we'll be able to grow elms that are resistant to Dutch Elm disease," says Wright, a forestry researcher.

"It may take 15 years to select resistant trees from among all those grown in the world," he said. "But we might do it in a lot less time if we're lucky."

Wright says he and his colleagues now are studying European elms planted some 25 years ago near Cassopolis.

"They were planted then for testing purposes," Wright says, "and we're now making use of the forest."

Only Plantation

The forest, which MSU says may be the only elm plantation of its kind in the United States, includes many elms which have been holding up well, even though they have been exposed to the disease.

If Wright and co-workers find any elms which they consider really resistant to the disease, they plan to make the seeds available.

Meanwhile, though, they're not counting on that possibility.

Wright says researchers already know of a resistant elm species from Siberia, "but it doesn't have the good form that made the American elm a popular shade tree."

Resistant Elms

"At least," he adds, "this gives us an indication that there are resistant elms in the genus." "We aim to find these elms," he says, "test them in Michigan and make the seed available." Toward that end, Wright and colleagues wrote to fellow forestry experts abroad, asking for seed samples. They received 524 different collections of seed — including many from Russia.

"The seeds were planted on the MSU campus in a nursery," Wright says. "They're receiving ordinary care—watering and watering. By 1970 we hope to plant out the small trees."

He says scientists hope to plant the trees all over the state and maybe throughout the country, to determine the effects of various environments on the tiny trees.

Inoculate Trees

"Then about 1972 we'll inoculate the trees with the spores of (Dutch Elm) fungus," Wright explains. "We'll have to wait until after that."

Many of the little trees will die, he predicts, but just as surely there will be survivors. And that means more waiting.

"The trouble then," Wright says, "is that we cannot be sure of the survivors. We cannot be sure they are resistant, because some 4-year-old trees can survive—then die later."

He compares this situation to some human diseases that strike only children and others that strike adults. "Dutch Elm disease hits the older trees," he says.

Carry On Research

Wright says that if he no longer is at MSU when the trees are full-grown or fully ready to test for resistance, the work will be carried on by associates.

He and a research associate, Gary Long, hope to design their work so that the end product will be a seed orchard. Then, when the experiment is completed, seeds can be readily released to nurserymen.

Then, too hundreds of thousands of dollars new spent for removing dead trees or spraying against the lethal Dutch Elm disease may be diverted to other uses.

LSD Legislation Being Worked Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House-Senate conference committee is to work out the difference between bills making it a crime to possess LSD and other stimulant and depressant drugs for personal use without a prescription.

The Senate version passed by a voice vote Friday.

The bill, requested by President Johnson, also increases penalties for selling or delivering the drugs outside legitimate channels.

The House-passed version contains tougher penalties than the Senate bill.

Knee Operation, Brings Big Group

LONDON (AP) — Former King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia arrived with 40 relatives and wives on a chartered plane Sunday night.

It took 30 autos to bring the king and his retinue into the city, where he will undergo a knee operation.

Saud, 66, was deposed by his brother Faisal four years ago.

Black Walnut Plantings Get New Accent

Planting and timber stand improvement operations throughout the 20-State Eastern Region of the Forest Service represented over 150,000 acres of forest development in fiscal 1968.

The operations included the planting of 21.5 million trees and 3,184 pounds of seed. Eighteen million of the young trees were produced at Forest Service nurseries for planting in Michigan, Minnesota, and Wisconsin, where 80 per cent of the region's planting operations occurred.

Included in the seeding effort were 1,380 pounds of black walnut seeds planted in Missouri and West Virginia. This valuable species is a prime material in the manufacture of furniture and gunstocks, the present value for which varies from $350 to $600 per thousand board feet in the standing tree.

Management of the black walnut plantations will be much more intense than for either spruce or pine crops, which constitute the remainder of the planting operation.

The spruce and pine stands are expected to have a harvest age of around 80 years with intermediate harvesting operations being conducted after 30 years.

Nixon Campaigns In Flint Tuesday

LANSING (AP) — Republican presidential candidate Richard Nixon is scheduled to make his third campaign appearance in Michigan Tuesday with a brief stop for a noontime speech in Flint.

The former vice president planned to speak in Flint's I.M.A Auditorium at about 12:15 p.m., and then leave immediately for Minneapolis.

Nixon appeared in Lansing and Detroit shortly after winning the GOP nomination. He returned to Detroit last Monday and Tuesday for a live television program and a strategy session with Gov. George Romney.

The remainder of the week will be devoted to a series of private conferences. Next Monday the Court will begin to announce rulings and will start a round of hearings.

Vietnam and civil rights demonstrators—and a group of rightists, as well—are testing the power of police to limit dissenters' activities in the interest of order. They present a difficult First Amendment problem.

Demonstrations for unpopular causes are bound to attack hecklers. Heckling has the potential of touching off violence. Must the demonstrators yield?

The question is brought directly by Dick Gregory, Negro writer and comedian arrested in 1965 as he led a march on the home of Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago to protest conditions in the public schools.

Four Arrested For Having Beer

Four youths were arrested about 1:30 a.m. Sunday and charged with being minors in possession of beer.

Conservation officers referred the youths to State Police. Arrested were Joseph P. Jungles, 18, Raymond C. Carlson, 18, Thomas J. Schultz, 17, all of Rte. 1, Cornell, and a 16-year-old juvenile.

Officers on patrol made the arrests on County Rd. 519 in Baldwin Township.

Briefly Told

There will be a PTC meeting at the Flat Rock School Tuesday, Oct. 8 at 8:15 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the school.

Duck Hunt Season To Begin Thursday

Prospects point to a lower kill than last year during Michigan's 1968 duck season which opens statewide Thursday.

The season, with reduced bag limits and fewer shooting days, is programmed for a harvest below last fall's figure of about 442,000 ducks taken by Michigan hunters.

The cut in kill could be slight or significant, depending mostly on weather conditions during the season which has been trimmed 10 days to end November 8.

Department waterfowl specialist Edward Mikula explains: "If there is cold weather which forces mass movements of ducks into this state, followed closely by prolonged mild spells which keep the birds here, the drop in kill from last year should only be minor. However, if the weather pattern is such that ducks move steadily in and out of Michigan, the harvest could be down considerably."

Nesting Poor

The more restrictive regulations are closely tied to the birds' nesting season, which has been described as a "near bust" in the crucial prairie provinces of Canada. Mallard, red-head ducks, and canvasbacks funneling from that area through Michigan and other Mississippi Flyway states will be in very short supply this fall, says Mikula.

The only bright spot for Michigan hunters is focused in Michigan where native ducks had one of their better nesting seasons last spring. Because of this and the reduced duck flights forecast out of Canada's prairie provinces, Mikula looks for up to 60 percent of Michigan's 1968 duck harvest to come from locally raised birds.

Major home-grown targets will include blue-winged teal, wood ducks, mallards, black ducks, ringnecks, and goldeneyes.

Hunters will be faced with reduced bag limits of three birds per day and six in possession. Last year, kill quotas for ducks were four daily and eight in possession.

Hours Listed

There are also new hunting hours on migratory birds which are more restrictive. Under the new shooting timetable, the state is divided into two time zones; one the western half of the Upper Peninsula, the other the eastern half of the Upper Peninsula and the entire Lower Peninsula.

District law supervisor Robert Timmer of Escanaba said the dividing line starts at the tip of Stony Point in Nahma Township (Sec. 28, T40N-R19W) and runs northwesterly along the shoreline of Big Bay de Noc to the Village of Nahma. From there the line runs north on County Highway 497 to U.S. 2, then east on U.S. 2 to Federal Forest Highway 13, and then north on PPH13 to M-28. The line then runs northwest on M-28 to Elm Ave. in Munising, north on Elm Ave. to Lake Superior and then north to the International boundary.

Hunting hours on migratory birds for the western Upper Peninsula are: through Oct. 26: 8:30 a.m. to 6:45 p.m. EDT (7:30 a.m. to 5:45 p.m. Escanaba time); Oct. 27 to Nov. 15: 7:45 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. EST; Nov. 16 to Nov. 30: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. EST.

The corresponding timetable for the eastern Upper Peninsula and lower Michigan reads: through Oct. 26: 8:15 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. EDT; Oct. 27 through Nov. 15: 7:30 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. EST; Nov. 16 through Nov. 30: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. EST.

Michigan's 1968 shooting timetable for migratory birds has this new, simplified look. It reflects last spring's darker duck production picture in the prairie provinces of Canada by trimming time off both ends of each hunting day. Although more restrictive than last year's, it will be easier for hunters to follow. The simpler shooting schedule for 1968 replaces the old line-boxed timetable which had different hunting hours for each of several meridian zones. As shown above, the new one divides the state into only two separate zones, and provides just three different sets of hunting hours for each of them. The shorter, more standardized hunting format will help the waterfowl situation by reducing the higher crippling rate on birds which occurs in the early morning and late evening periods. It will offer another plus by making species identification easier under better light conditions.

for the eastern Upper Peninsula and lower Michigan reads: through Oct. 26: 8:15 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. EDT; Oct. 27 through Nov. 15: 7:30 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. EST; Nov. 16 through Nov. 30: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. EST.

Non-Saluters Go To Front Lines

SAIGON (AP) — Two American soldiers have been transferred to the front lines from the rear for failing to salute officers, an Army spokesman reported Monday.

Maj. Gen Charles P. Stone, commander of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division, confirmed there is such a policy in his 15,000-man division, which is based in South Vietnam's central highlands.

The order went into effect Sept. 7. Saluting is required in rear base areas but not in forward combat zones. The division's rear headquarters is at Camp Enari, just outside Pleiku.

Asked if other army units had such a policy in South Vietnam, an Army spokesman said the 4th Division policy "is the only one I'm aware of."

Stone, in explaining the directive, said the policy had been applied before.

560 Indians Killed In Four Day Rain

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Devastating floods and landslides caused by four days of torrential rain in India's sub-Himalayan region have killed at least 560 persons, official spokesmen said today.

But the newspaper Amrita Bazar Patrika estimated the death toll at more than 1,000 based on refugees' statements.

Government spokesmen said most of the known dead were killed by collapsing houses in the town of Darjeeling. They feared that unless washed out road and rail links are restored, millions in the region will face a grave shortage of food.

Darjeeling and Jalpaiguri reported they were without drinking water and electricity, and witnesses said Ghoom, Kurseong, Kalimpong and other hill towns near Darjeeling are almost in ruins.

Newspapers said 250 persons were killed in Jalpaiguri when the River Tista crested its banks early Saturday. The town was reported under 10 feet of water, preventing army helicopters from landing to rescue people sheltering on their rooftops.

HHH Great Fan At Wet Ball Game

Detroit (AP) — Soaked by a cold drizzle Vice President Hubert Humphrey rooted for both St. Louis and Detroit, Sunday, as he braved rain-swept Tiger Stadium to view the fourth game of the World Series.

Humphrey, who was forced to change raincoats late in the game because of the showers, said he flew from Washington especially to see the game. He declined to state his favorite team.

"I'm taking an all-American, national point of view of this game," the Democratic presidential candidate told reporters. "I love baseball," he said. "I just wanted to come out to the game. 'I haven't missed a World Series in years.'"

First Communion Held Sunday In Hermansville

Twenty-one children of St. Mary's Parish, Hermansville made their First Holy Communion on Sunday, Oct. 6 at the 8 Mass celebrated by the Rev. Gervase Brewer.

In recognition of the month of our Lady of the Holy Rosary, short services were held preceding the Mass.

A small gold rosary was carried to the sanctuary by John Rodman, who presented it to Rev. Brewer. Three girls of the class, Audrey Paccio, Kathryn Maule, and Leigh Ann Schultz, then placed the rosary in the hands of the Blessed Virgin.

Each child then placed his candle around the statue, while the choir sang, "O Queen of the Holy Rosary". The children then renewed their Baptismal vows in unison. Parents of the children were invited to partake of Holy Communion at the same Mass.

Members of the class are: Donald Adams, Ronald Adams, Georgianna Dugree, Carla Esposito, Audrey Paccio, David Gurgall, Robert Kuchura, Shanda Kuchura, William Lauscher, Kermit LeBonte, Stephen LeBombar, Wayne Malone, Kathryn Maule, Todd Poquette, Paul Raiche, David Rochon, John Rodman, Leigh Ann Schultz, Robert St. Juliana, Timothy Trudell, and Bruce Whitens.

The Ursuline Sisters of the Stephenson Convent instructed the children and were in charge of the ceremony.

Area Extension Homemakers To Meet This Week

Area Extension Homemakers will, "Bone Up On Meat", at lessons to be held this month. Menominee County Study group leaders will meet at 12 noon Tuesday, Oct. 8 in the Community Room of the Stephenson Bank Building.

Delta County leaders will meet at 1:30 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 9 at the Delta County Building. All interested women are invited to attend.

Meat commands a high proportion of the family food dollar. Its delicious aroma and flavor along with a lasting feeling of satisfaction after a meal account for meat's popularity. Every homemaker rates herself as a cook on the quality of her meat cookery.

The class, "Bone Up On Meat", offers homemakers an opportunity to review basic methods of meat cookery and to explore new ways of cooking meat. Questions concerning meat tenderizers, cooking methods, and costs will be discussed. New, tasty, simple to prepare recipes will also be available.

Eskymos Whip Alpena For 5th Season Win

An injury-riddled Escanaba Eskymo team spotted the Alpena Wildcats an early first quarter touchdown and then went on to notch a 47-6 victory in a game played Saturday afternoon at the Escanaba Athletic Field.

Escanaba lost center Wes Peterson last weekend against West Iron County and halfback Dan Mylander had to be removed from the game Saturday with a severe shoulder bruise. Fullback Jim Olsen and halfback Ken Robitaille played Saturday, but their performance was hampered due to injuries.

Alpena wasted little time in getting on the scoreboard, scoring in five plays following the opening kickoff. The touchdown drive started from their own 37-yard line and a 40-yard run on third down by the Wildcats' Randy MacAulay put the ball in Eskymo territory at the 18. A running play netted only two yards for Alpena before quarterback Mel Straley passed the remaining 16 yards to end Rodney Freel for the touchdown. John Snyder's kick for the extra point was wide.

Alpena kicked off to the Eskymos' Mylander, who took the ball on his own 22 and returned it to the Alpena 45. Johnson set up the touchdown play with a nine yard toss to end John Moberg before finding Mylander open deep for the touchdown. Mylander's kick for the extra point found the mark and the Eskymos went out in front 7-6.

Reserve Shines

A fumble recovery by Mike Dupont gave the ball back to the Eskymos on their own 25-yard line. Olsen and Jack Winters, subbing for the injured Robitaille, alternated carries as the Eskymos marched the ball down field before Winters scoot-ed into the end zone from a yard out for his first touchdown of the season on the ninth play of the drive. Mylander again put the kick for the extra point through the uprights.

Escanaba was not through yet in the first quarter though, as Greg Johnson took to the air with the wind at his back after Escanaba downed an Alpena punt at the Wildcats' 41-yard line. Johnson's first pass fell incomplete before Mylander scampered to the 28 and gave the Eskymos another first down. On second down Johnson found Moberg open around the Alpena ten and the big end took the ball and scampered and squirmed into the end zone for Escanaba's third touchdown of the quarter. Mylander's kick again found the mark and the Eskymos led 21-6 at the end of the period.

Escanaba got the ball back again on their own 30-yard line following an Alpena punt. After Winters picked up four yards to the 34, Mylander carried to the Alpena 44 and was injured on the tackle. Robitaille replaced Mylander and promptly ran 21-yards to the 23. Carries by Gene Timmer and Robitaille put the ball on the 14 before Dupont put his head down and rammed his way to paydirt. Dale Cochran's kick went off the side of his foot and Escanaba led 27-6 at intermission.

Mileski Intercepts

The Eskymos started another drive immediately after taking the second half kickoff. Dupont and Winters carried the ball from the Escanaba 42 to the Alpena one in nine plays before Dupont bulled into the end zone for another Esky TD. Johnson rolled around his own left end for the extra point. John Mileski intercepted a second down pass by Alpena on the Wildcats' 47-yard line and the Eskymos scored again in ten plays, this time with Robitaille running it in from the 16-yard line. Dupont scored the extra point on a run.

Alpena threatened to score near the end of the quarter as Snyder reeled off a 64-yard run to the Escanaba five, but the Eskymo defense stiffened and stopped the drive at the one.

Escanaba coach Jerry Cvenegros sent a new unit into the game and the two teams traded fumbles and punt returns before third-string quarterback Ken Peterson hurled a 38-yard scoring strike to Brian Larson. Ed Gafner's attempt to run the ball into the end zone for the extra point failed and the Eskymos held a 47-6 lead with just minutes remaining in the contest.

The victory was the Eskymos fifth of the season and left their record at 5-0-1 as they headed into their homecoming game next week against Marinette.

Mileski and Steve Strophich turned in their usual good defensive game, but newcomers Gary Brawley and Bob Gauthier also gave the Alpena offense plenty of trouble later in the game. Winters and Dupont answered the call on offense and turned in sparkling performances filling in for the injured regulars.

Scoring:

Alp - Freel 16-yd. pass from Straley (Kick failed)

Esc - Mylander 36-yd. pass from Johnson (Mylander kick)

Esc - Winters 1-yd. plunge (Mylander kick)

Esc - Moberg 28-yd. pass from Johnson (Mylander kick)

Esc - Dupont 14-yd. run (Kick failed)

Esc - Dupont 1-yd. plunge (Johnson run)

Esc - Robitaille 16-yd. run (Dupont run)

Esc - Larson 38-yd. pass from Peterson (Run failed)

Packers Spoil Debut By New Falcon Coach

ATLANTA (AP) — The Green Bay Packers, stung by two straight losses, overcame a stubborn Atlanta defense for 21 points in the third quarter and whipped the Falcons 38-7 Sunday.

The loss spoiled Norm Van Brocklin's debut as the Falcon coach.

Atlanta played the Packers on nearly even terms in the first half and a 21-yard field goal by Chuck Mercein with four seconds left in the half gave Green Bay only a 10-7 halftime lead in the National Football League contest.

But the Packers took advantage of Atlanta errors in the third quarter to score two of their three touchdowns, and strong running by Donny Anderson produced a third.

Anderson gained 18 and 10 yards on a drive shortly after the half and also caught a 30-yard pass from Bart Starr for a first down before scoring from 11 yards out.

After the kickoff, Falcon quarterback Randy Johnson fumbled attempting to pass and the Packers had a first down at the Atlanta two. Starr completed a one-yard pass to Marv Fleming for the score.

After Ray Nitschke intercepted a Johnson pass at the Falcon 43, Starr completed a 19-yard pass to Elijah Pitts and an eight-yarder to Travis Williams before tossing 23 yards to Claudis James for the score.

Green Bay scored first in the first quarter on a nine-yard pass from Starr to Boyd Dowler. The Falcons tied it up in the second period as Johnson completed 41 and 42 yard passes to Bob Long to get a first down at the three. Perry Lee Dunn carried it over from the one.

Van Brocklin, who took over from Norb Hecker as Falcon coach last week, replaced Johnson in the last quarter with Bob Berry who played for him at Minnesota, to try to get the Falcons moving. But Herb Adderley intercepted Berry's first pass.

Houston Stunned By Miami, 24-7

By The Associated Press

The end may be just around the corner for the Houston Oilers but it probably won't be anything like the end around that did in the Boston Patriots Sunday.

The Oilers, defending champs in the American Football League's Eastern Division, were stunned by Miami 24-7 and fell into a last-place tie with Buffalo. Both have 1-4 records.

Meanwhile, Boston held a 10-7 halftime lead over the AFL champion Oakland Raiders. But a 41-yard end around by Warren Wells gave Oakland the lead in the third period and when the fireworks were over the Raiders had a 41-10 triumph, their 14th straight, equaling the league record.

In the only other Sunday game, Denver turned back Cincinnati 10-7 on a fourth-period touchdown pass from Steve Tensi to Mike Heffner. Saturday night, New York edged San Diego 23-20 and Kansas City beat Buffalo 18-7.

After Wells' touchdown, Daryle Lamonica passed 17 yards to Hewitt Dixon for another score and the unbeaten Raiders got their final tally of the third period on a 20-yard pass from Lamonica to Charlie Smith, who fumbled on the Boston seven. Fred Biletnikoff, who caught six passes for 107 yards, scooped up the loose ball and ran it in.

Houston, minus hospitalized quarterback Pete Beathard, was no match for previously winless Miami despite an early touchdown by Woodie Campbell. Willie West ran 20 yards with a lateral from John Bramlett, who recovered a Houston fumble, to tie the score and Larry Csonka gave the Dolphins the lead on a two-yard plunge. Bob Griese's 50-yard scoring pass to Karl Noonan iced it.

Griese completed seven of 12 passes for 92 yards and rookies Csonka and Jim Krick rushed for 82 and 104, respectively. Bob Davis and Don Trull, filling in for Beathard, managed only seven completions in 23 attempts.

Quarterback Tensi, back in the Denver line-up for the first time since a pre-season injury, flipped a four-yard pass to Heffner in the closing minutes to give the Broncos their first victory. Tensi replaced Marlin "The Magician" Briscoe, who failed to move the Broncos.

Emerson Boozier plunged across on fourth down from a yard out to give the Jets their Saturday night win over San Diego before a record AFL crowd of 63,786. The Chargers had taken the lead with six minutes left when Gary Garrison caught his second touchdown pass of the game.

Jan Stenerud missed an extra point but kicked field goals of 18, 12, 16 and 15 yards in Kansas City's win over Buffalo. The conversion miss was Stenerud's first as a pro after 50 successful ones.

Griese completed seven of 12 passes for 92 yards and rookies Csonka and Jim Krick rushed for 82 and 104, respectively. Bob Davis and Don Trull, filling in for Beathard, managed only seven completions in 23 attempts.

Broncos Clinch Conference Title

BARK RIVER — The Bark River-Harris Broncos clinched first place in the Wolverine Conference grid race with a 13-6 victory over Powers-Spalding here Saturday.

Ken Veesser scored the first Bark River touchdown on a four yard run and the run for the extra point failed. Russ Pirlot scored the final Bronco touchdown on a one yard run and Veesser ran for the extra point. The lone Powers-Spalding touchdown came on a 30-yard run by Dick Smith.

Veesser picked up 117 yards and Len Olsen added 98 to lead the Broncos in rushing. Powers got 65 yards through the air and 95 on the ground.

The Broncos' next game is scheduled at Pembine, Wis. this Saturday while Powers entertains Rock at home.

700 Series Hit For Second Time

Louis Parlato rolled the second 700 series in five days at the Bowl-A-Rama Sunday night.

Parlato shot games of 234, 245 and 236 for a 715 series, the highest of the season in the Escanaba area. He was bowling in the 7 p.m. Sunday Mixed Couples League.

Vikings Grab Top Spot In NFL Division Race

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — A quarterback playing with a broken shoulder, a quarterback who can't remember what he did and a rugged defense sent the Minnesota Vikings to a new height—first place this far into a season.

The Vikings topped the Detroit Lions 24-10 Sunday and took sole possession of first place in the Central Division of the National Football League with a 3-1 record.

Never have the Vikings been in first place four games into a season.

Minnesota quarterback Gary Cuozzo broke his left clavicle as he completed an eight-yard pass to running back Jim Lindsey in the second period at the start of a 79-yard touchdown drive.

But Cuozzo, one of two quarterbacks on the Minnesota roster, stayed in the game until Lindsey plunged three yards for a touchdown that gave the Vikings a 7-3 edge.

Cuozzo had replaced quarterback Joe Kapp, who was knocked dizzy in the first period and had double vision in one eye. After the game, Kapp said he could not remember his part in the victory—engineering two fourth-quarter touchdowns.

Down to only one quarterback, Vikings' Coach Bud Grant said he would announce today plans for more depth at the position. Rookie quarterback Bob Lee was expected to be activated from the taxi squad.

"When you get excited, you don't feel too much," said Cuozzo after the game. "I knew something was wrong. I wanted to keep in there."

"We had the momentum and I didn't want to go out and lose that. Besides, I knew Joe wasn't in very good shape on the sidelines."

Cuozzo completed five passes for 46 yards on the drive.

Minnesota increased its lead to 10-3 in the third period on a 29-yard field goal by Fred Cox.

Bill Munson brought Detroit back, hitting flanker Earl McCulloch on a 49-yard play and then combining with Mel Farr on a 30-yard touchdown that evened the score early in the fourth period.

From there, Minnesota's defense and Kapp's quarterbacking crushed the Lions, now 2-2.

Bill Brown climaxed two long touchdown drives on runs of one and three yards. Brown, the NFL scoring leader before the game, now has 48 points this season.

"We just started playing football," said Kapp. "I can't remember a thing. I felt like I took a shot to the head. It just sort of wore off as the game went along."

Kapp completed six of 14 passes for 100 yards, including a 51-yarder to Gene Washington that set up Brown's one-yard run. Kapp also gained 33 yards rushing on four carries.

"I'll have to read about it in the paper," Kapp said.

Meanwhile, the Minnesota defense held the Lions to 73 yards rushing and allowed Munson 13 completions for 196 yards.

"We knew we had to stop their long passes," said Grant. "We wanted the kind of rush from the front four that wouldn't give Munson that extra second."

Gladstone Trips Munising, 12-7

MUNISING — The Gladstone Braves had to fight for their lives Saturday but managed to come out on the top end of a 12-7 decision with the Munising Mustangs.

The Mustangs opened the scoring in the first quarter on a two-yard run by quarterback Dave Wickstrom. The scoring play was set up on a long pass from Wickstrom to end Larry Dunkel, putting the ball on the two. Wickstrom also added the extra point as his kick split the uprights to give Munising a 7-0 lead.

Gladstone's first touchdown came in the second quarter when quarterback Bruce Richards hit Steve Nelson with a 19-yard pass to put the ball on the Munising 25 and then came right back to hit Nelson with another pass, this one good for 25 yards and the touchdown. The kick for the PAT was wide of the mark and the score stood at 7-6 at halftime.

Munising threatened to go ahead late in the third quarter but Nelson stopped the drive when he intercepted a pass on the Gladstone two. Gladstone couldn't move the ball and Nelson boomed a punt 54 yards to get the Braves out of trouble.

Lorenson paced the Gladstone ground attack with 75 yards in six rushing attempts and fullback Bob Carlson added 72 yards in 18 attempts. Richards completed only two of nine passes but they were the ones that counted in Gladstone's first scoring drive.

Gladstone ran 53 plays and picked up eight first downs while Munising piled up nine first downs in 61 plays from scrimmage.

Defensive ends Ed Hart, Mike Quinn and Bob Young turned in sparkling performances on defense along with tackles Steve Maniaci and Mike Lagina. Lagina, Gary Goodman and Jim Dehlin did the blocking up front on offense to allow the Gladstone backs to break through for long yardage. Coach Don Pfotenauer was also pleased with the blocking done by halfback Dean Culliton and end Eric Treichel.

Gladstone's next game is at Negaunee this Friday in a Great Lakes Conference battle.

Scoring:

Mun - Wickstrom 2-yd. run (Wickstrom kick)

Glad - Nelson 25-yd. pass from Richards (Kick failed)

Glad - Lorenson 40-yd. run (Kick failed)

Engadine Gets Second Victory

ENGADINE — The Engadine Eagles picked up their second victory of the season Saturday as they emerged victorious over Brimley, 33-18, in an Eastern U.P. Conference clash.

Brimley scored first after forcing Engadine to punt after the opening kickoff. Delmar Shagen took the punt on the Engadine 45 and returned it all the way for the touchdown. A running attempt for the extra point failed.

Pat Bigger returned the ensuing kickoff 50 yards and a Brimley penalty helped the Eagles start their first scoring drive from the Brimley 35. On fourth down from the 17, Skip Bigger found fullback Gus Fillman open in the end zone and Engadine was on the board. John Brown kicked the extra point to put Engadine ahead 7-6.

Fillman scored the second Engadine touchdown on an 11 yard run after Skip Bigger passed to Ron Weger from the Engadine 37 to the Brimley 11. Brown's kick missed the mark and Engadine led 13-6 at the end of the quarter.

Engadine started their next drive from their own 38 and scored in 11 plays. Weger carried the final four yards into the end zone but fumbled and end John Greenwald fell on it for an Engadine score. The PAT attempt failed.

In the third quarter Jim Schutt blocked a Brimley punt and recovered it on the Brimley 25. Weger carried to the 15 and Fillman got ten more to the five before Weger carried the ball to paydirt. Skip Bigger ran for the extra point.

Brimley scored from the Engadine 46 in 11 plays with the final nine yards coming on a pass from John Akkanen to Ken Kinsella for the touchdown. The run for the extra point failed and Engadine now led 26-12.

Following a ball exchange, Engadine started on their own 30 and scored in nine plays. Fillman gained 31 yards in the drive and also ran the final four yards for the score. Brown kicked the extra point.

Brimley's final touchdown came on a one-yard pass from Akkanen to Shagen after returning the kickoff to their own 38 and using 16 plays to hit paydirt.

Cardinals Take 3-1 Lead In World Series

Gibson Pitches Second Victory With 5-Hitter

DETROIT (AP) — Now that Bob Gibson has made another farce of his celebrated World Series confrontation with Denny McLain, the pitchers may call a cease fire and join the same team.

Gibson, who overwhelmed McLain and the rest of the Detroit Tigers with a five-hit, 17-strikeout performance in the Series opener, threw another five-hitter as St. Louis battered McLain and five other pitchers 10-1 Sunday.

That gave the Cardinals 3-1 edge in the series and left it up to Mickey Lolich, the only successful Tiger hurler, to keep the season alive in his duel with Nelson Briles today. Lolich beat Briles in the second game last Thursday.

Before gaining his seventh straight complete game Series victory, Gibson had to work and wait through four hours and 25 minutes of rain, mist and cold.

That was a lot longer than McLain was around—the 31-game winner removed himself from the game during the 74-minute, third-inning rain delay—but when the game finally had ended, the pitchers found themselves making similar post-Series plans.

Humphrey Visit
The plans revolve around Vice President Hubert Humphrey, the Democratic presidential candidate who visited both clubhouses after sitting through the long afternoon.

"I'm going to back that man," McLain said, adding he would join Humphrey's campaign tour for two or three days after the Series.
"I'll probably get into Washington after the season, and I imagine we'll probably get together," Gibson said following an invitation from Humphrey to meet with him. "I'm a Democrat, but I'm not a politician. I'm a pitcher."

And McLain was the first to second that statement.

"He's a great, great competitor, one of the greatest I've ever seen," the 24-year-old Tiger said, breaking out of his dejection briefly. "He's everything a major league pitcher should be."

McLain disclosed he asked to be taken out of the game because his right shoulder was bothering him. But he refused to use that as an alibi for a performance in which he was rocked for four runs and six hits in 2 2/3 innings.

At the same time, McLain said he doesn't think his two Series losses rub any of the luster off his 31-victory season, the first in the majors in 37 years.

Not Embarrassing
"I don't think it's embarrassing to get knocked about in a World Series," he said. "It took a heck of a lot of work to get here. I don't think it hurts anything."

"There are guys who have lost two games before. Sandy Koufax lost two a few years ago and Whitey Ford lost two before that."

"And it can't hurt me one dime financially either. I'm booked solid all winter long. There's nothing that can hurt that. I guess my pride is the biggest thing that's hurt."

His pride started taking a bigger dip on the second pitch of Sunday's game, when Lou Brock smashed a 415-foot home run after his leadoff appearance had been delayed by rain for 37 minutes.

By the time the rain was falling heavily enough for time to be called—in the third inning—the Cardinals had rapped McLain for five more hits and three more runs.

When play resumed 74 minutes later, McLain no longer was the Detroit pitcher, and the teams started a game of stall-and-speed-up.

"I told Mayo I just couldn't continue and asked him to take me out," McLain explained, staring at the ground. "My shoulder has been bothering me since the Baltimore series last month, and it was real sore today."

"I didn't want to hurt my arm anymore because I have other seasons to think of."

Tigers Delay
The Tigers had the game to think of, and they did their best to delay it long enough for the rain to become unbearable.

In the top of the fourth inning, first baseman Norm Cash went to the mound to talk to relief pitcher Daryl Patterson. In the bottom of the inning, Willie Horton went to the dugout to clean his spikes and his bat and Jim Northrup exchanged his broken bat.

The Cardinals countered in the fifth inning when Julian Javier, on base with a two-out single, tried to steal second and was out easily.

Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst insisted Javier had the steal sign and just left first too soon. But that move, and the others, induced the umpires to call Schoendienst and Tiger boss Mayo Smith to the plate for a conference.

"We didn't want one team to be hurrying and we didn't want one team to be stalling," plate umpire Bill Kinnamon said. "One was not to delay and one was not to speed up."

Kinnamon didn't say anything about Gibson speeding up so that's what the 32-year-old right-hander did.

After allowing a hit in each of the first four innings, Gibson struck out Jim Price and Dick McAuliffe and retired Mickey Stanley on a fly to center. That made the game official, and it was only three hours and 25 minutes after play was to have started.

Gibson Homers
The Cardinals, meanwhile, amassed 13 hits, including a home run by Gibson in the fourth and three hits by Brock—a homer, a triple and a three-run double in the eighth.

Gibson's blow made him the only pitcher ever to hit two homers in Series play, and Brock stole third after his double, giving him a record-tying seventh steal in this Series and a record-tying 14th for all of his Series play.

The first mark he tied was his own: the second belonged to Eddie Collins.

What Gibson and Brock and the rest of the Cardinals did was leave the Tigers with the almost impossible task of coming back from a 3-1 deficit.

Only three teams have done it, and one of them wasn't the 1967 Boston Red Sox. The Red Sox were down 3-1 to the Cardinals but then came back and won the next two games. In the seventh contest, however, Gibson mastered Jim Lonborn in their only duel.

The way things look now Gibson might not have to go through a third battle with McLain. In fact there's one question as to whether McLain would pitch again in the Series if it went to the seventh game.

Neither McLain nor Smith is sure Denny can pitch again this year because of his shoulder.

The Cardinals, however, would like to save them the problem of deciding.

Ailing Shoulder Bothers McLain; May Be Through

DETROIT (AP) — Is Denny McLain washed up for the rest of the World Series?

According to Detroit Manager Mayo Smith, Denny "will be able to pitch again in the Series."

But McLain isn't sure. "I'm finished for the Series," said McLain, who complained about a sore shoulder after the Tigers got bombed 10-1 in the fourth game Sunday as St. Louis pounded six Tiger pitchers for 13 hits including two home runs, two triples and three doubles. The Cards lead the Series, 3-1.

McLain was the starter and loser and was relieved by Joe Sparma after 2 2/3 innings with the score 4-0.

Denny said later that he wouldn't know until results of an appointment with a doctor today if he would be okay to pitch again against St. Louis.

"I don't know what's going on right now," he said.

He said he told Smith to take him out of the game because of the pain in his right shoulder.

The 31-game winner has been undergoing X-ray treatments for his ailment since the beginning of September, but he said, "Anymore X-ray treatments would be harmful to my system, so I'm not taking anymore."

"I forgot to take a pain pill before the game, and it took that much longer for me to get loose," he said of his pitching troubles Sunday.

"There are no alibis in this game either," he added, "You either win or lose."

"They wanted to give me a shot (for pain) today, but I didn't want it," McLain said. "When you start getting shots you're on your way out, and I'm only 24. I want to remain shot free."

"We'll use Joe Sparma in the sixth game in case Earl Wilson's not ready," Smith said, referring to a swollen right knee that caused him to take Wilson out of Saturday's game. "We have to wait day by day on this," he said. "If he can't pitch, Sparma will."

Sunday's game was delayed twice by rain. It started 37 minutes late, and was delayed one hour and 14 minutes after two were out in the top of the third.

When play resumed and the Tigers appeared on their way to defeat, the crowd started chanting for rain. Rain continued steadily but lightly.

When play resumed and the Tigers appeared on their way to defeat, the crowd started chanting for rain. Rain continued steadily but lightly.

The Tigers tried obvious stalling tactics, hoping the game would be called off before completion of the fifth inning when it could be declared official.

In the top of the fourth, Detroit first baseman Norm Cash trotted to the mound to speak with reliever Daryl Patterson. Plate umpire Bill Kinnamon ordered him back to first and he and Cash began arguing.

"He knew what I was doing so he said 'Let's go,'" Cash added. "He wanted to get the game in."

Rightfielder Al Kaline was the only sparkling Tiger performer of the day. He doubled and singled his first two times at bat.

"You did a great job out there; you were great," said Vice President Hubert Humphrey to Kaline in the dressing room. The Democratic presidential candidate, who watched the game from a seat near the backstop, then shook hands with the players.

Seven collegians who rushed for more than 1,000 yards are playing this season. They are led by Southern Cal's O. J. Simpson who gained 1,415 yards last year.

Many Problems Caused By Rain

DETROIT (AP)—History, rain and Vice President Hubert Humphrey all combined Sunday to present considerable problems for baseball Commissioner William Eckert—and almost prevented Mickey Lolich's 2-year-old daughter from having her usual afternoon glass of milk.

The whole problem began at about 11:30 when it started to rain at Tiger Stadium, site of the fourth game of the World Series and the return confrontation between Detroit 31-game winner Denny McLain and Bob Gibson, St. Louis' 17-strikeout winner in the opener.

Due to the rain, the start of the game was delayed 37 minutes. Forty-four minutes and four runs off McLain later, another downpour forced a halt in play during the second inning.

And it began to look like history was the biggest problem Eckert would have to deal with. For in the entire history of the World Series, no game had ever been started and then called off because of rain.

While it rained outside, Eckert and his staff made frequent appearances on the field between visits to the Tiger press room under the stands, while the commissioner also was entertaining Humphrey and his staff.

Secret Service men stopped all who tried to gain access to the room, and only those on a list held by one of the special police on duty were granted admittance.

Gaining admittance were various baseball executives such as Vern Stouffer, owner of the Cleveland Indians; Will Harbridge, former American League president, and Charles Bronfmann chairman of the board of the new Montreal National League club.

At the same time, Eckert wrestled with the problem of a possible postponement. There was considerable discussion over whether Eckert had the power to rule the game be suspended—rather than postponed—because of the special nature of the Series.

That way the Cardinals, with Gibson working on his second Series triumph and holding a 4-0 lead, would not be deprived of the work they had done in the first 44 minutes of play. A postponement would mean the game would start over.

While that was discussed, a polka band played outside the room where Eckert was closeted with his aides, and Tiger fans, obviously rooting for a postponement, chanted: "Rain, rain, rain."

Then, at one point, one of the Tigers' clubhouse boys tried to gain admittance to the room, but was immediately stopped by Secret Service men.

"Where you going?" said a Secret Service man.

"Have to get milk for Lolich," the boy replied.

"You can't go in there," the Secret Service man answered.

"But I always get milk here," the boy pleaded. "It's for his daughter."

Since the boy couldn't be granted entry, one of the special police went inside and brought out one-half gallon, solving that problem, at least.

The milk was immediately brought to Lolich's daughter, Kimberley, who was sitting on her father's lap in the Detroit clubhouse, drank her milk and waited for her mother to take her home.

Shortly after, the rain slowed enough to permit the resumption of play, and Humphrey, Eckert and Jackie Robinson returned to box 82, where the entire party was sitting.

Humphrey, hatless and obviously somewhat chilled, clapped his hands, blew on them, whistled and finally sat down.

"Look at Humph," yelled a fan to his friend, "he's rubbing his hands and blowing on them."

"What do you want?" the friend replied. "He's human."

Brock, Gibson Center Of Post-Game Attention

DETROIT (AP) — "It takes four to win," said Manager Red Schoendienst after his St. Louis Cardinals trounced Detroit 10-1 Sunday and moved to a 3-1 World Series lead.

The fourth victory could come Monday, but Schoendienst refused to speculate further.

Vice President Hubert Humphrey visited the Cardinals' dressing room, but most of the attention centered on Lou Brock and Bob Gibson.

Brock had a fine day with a home run, a triple and a double which would have been a triple had it not been for a mixup of signals at third base. That play came with the bases loaded in the eighth inning.

"He (pitcher Bob Gibson) was three strides in front of third base and I was one pace off," said Brock explaining the play.

The coach (Joe Schultz) put the hold sign up and I knew it was for me. But I saw Gibson coming back and that would have put two of us on the base.

"So I turned around and went back," Brock continued. "I didn't see Gibson break for home or I would have tried for third."

Later Brock claimed third with his seventh stolen base during the current World Series and 14th Series stolen base—which ties a record owned by Eddie Collins. Was it necessary with a nine-run lead?

"If you get a chance at a record, you take that chance," Brock replied. "I take every base they give me."

The start of the game was delayed more than 30 minutes because of rain and the issue of delay—and speedup—surfaced later as the Cardinals looked to an early lead and it looked like the game might be called before the required five innings had been completed. Plate umpire Bill Kinnamon discussed the issue with both managers as the game neared the end of the crucial fifth.

Before the conference Cardinals' second baseman Julian Javier had attempted to steal second, but was thrown out easily by the pitcher who had not made his pitch.

"Javier stole second and they (umpires) didn't think it was right," said Schoendienst. "They said they thought it was bad timing ... looked like we were trying to get it over."

"But I gave him (Javier) the sign, and it just didn't work," said the manager. He added that the umpires said they did not want any delaying tactics.

Ketckik, Webber Speak Tuesday

Richard Ketckik, Republican, and his Democratic opponent for District Supervisor of City Dist. 5, Homer Webber, will address the second "Meet the Candidates" program Tuesday night at the K of C Hall. The programs are sponsored by the Senior Citizens Club and the Senior Citizens Drop-In Center. The programs seek to determine generally how the individual candidates feel about support of local Senior Citizens programs although they are not necessarily limited in scope. Refreshments will be served and the public is invited to attend. The program begins at 7:30 p.m.

Ruppe Speaks At Dinner Here

Congressman Phil Ruppe will be in the Schoolcraft County area all day Wednesday to visit all the Townships and will wind-up his appearances with a speech at a Republican fundraising dinner at 6:30 in Manistique.

Ruppe has not scheduled a definite time for his Township visits but his itinerary calls for a visit to all eight Townships between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. He is to speak Wednesday evening at the St. Francis Parish Center following a 6:30 dinner. Ruppe's aides say he is embarking on a "folksy, old-style" campaign which will emphasize the "personal touch." He is presently representing Michigan's 11 congressional district which includes all Upper Peninsula counties and several in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula - 23 counties in all. His seat in Congress is being challenged by Democrat Raymond Clevenger.

Frank Lesica Dies At Home

Frank Lesica, 83, of 237 N. Maple St., died at 3 p.m. Sunday at his home after a long illness.

Mr. Lesica was born May 15, 1885, in Dreznik, Yugoslavia. He came to Manistique in 1903 from Yugoslavia and married Katherine Gushel in Manistique in 1915.

He was a member of St. Francis de Sales Church and of the Croatian Fraternal Union. He had retired from the Michigan Dimension Co.

Survivors include his wife, Katherine; two sons, Francis of Ishpeming and Lawrence of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, several nieces and nephews and four grandchildren.

Friends may call after 3:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Messier-Brouillette Funeral Home. Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. Wednesday at St. Francis de Sales Church. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery. Liturgical prayers will be recited at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Briefly Told

James Staples of H. C. Price Co. told State Police on Friday that a cut stack of timber was stolen in Inwood Township. Staples said the pipeline had a contract with the landowner to cut the timber for their right-of-way through the land.

State Police ticketed the following motorists on Friday: Robert LaMott, Three Rivers, no license on trailer; Durward Young, Wyoming, Mich., no chauffeur's license; Anna Lind, Soo, Ont., speeding; and Donald Welles, Jr., Rockford, Ill., speeding.

Gary Swanson, 25, Kingsford, told troopers of the Manistique Post that he hit a dog which ran into the path of his auto at 10 a.m. Friday. The mishap occurred on U.S. 2 in Thompson Township. The dog was returned to its owners with slight injuries. No tickets were issued.

A small change purse and key container was found about noon Friday near the Red Owl store. The owner may have same by identifying the purse at the Michigan State Police Post.

The hot-lunch menu for Tuesday at Doyle, Fairview, Central, and Hiawatha schools will be Swedish meat balls, parsley, buttered potatoes, buttered diced beets, orange-carrot-pineapple gelatin salad, and homemade prune bread.

The Art Club will hold a business meeting tonight at 7:30 at the Studio. Plans for art instruction and arrangements for the annual Christmas Tea are on the agenda.

Imperfect money bills at the Bureau of Engraving are showed into a giant incinerator at the rate of $3 million a day.

T.O.P.S. Honor Weight Battlers

Eleven delegates of the "Manistique Hopefuls," local T.O.P.S. Club, attended the seventh annual Recognition Day of peninsula-wide TOPS on the Northern Michigan University campus on Saturday, Sept. 28.

Approximately 500 delegates attended the convention which featured a Workshop for leaders and weight recorders, a noon banquet, a talent show, and awards program. TOPS stands for Take Off Pounds Sensibly.

Mrs. Franklin Creeden, Mrs. William Pistulka, Mrs. Leonard LaFleur, Mrs. Francis Selling, and Mrs. Herb Calhoun received KOPS (Keeping Off Pounds Sensibly) awards for reaching their desired weight goal and maintaining it for three months; Mrs. Calhoun, Mrs. Selling, Mrs. Creeden, and Mrs. Don Holmberg also received Perfect Attendance Certificates. Mrs. Selling was also honored for no weight gain in 1967. Mrs. Clyde Chartier received a certificate designating her as KOPS in-waiting.

Oh, yes! the menu for the convention banquet? The 500 TOPS delegates dined on apple juice, lettuce wedge, beef tenderloin tips on rice, frozen peas and carrots with garnish, rolls and butter, a special ice cream dessert and coffee, tea, and milk.

Local club officers are Mrs. LaFleur, president; Mrs. Selling, co-leader; Mrs. Pistulka, secretary; Mrs. Theresa Neville, treasurer; and Mrs. Bert Barr, weight recorder.

Legion Official Praises League

A check of the players on both World Series teams reveals that many of the big leaguers came up to the majors via American Legion baseball. Who knows, Legion Post Commander Clifford Lambert asked this week, maybe one of the 40 or 50 boys who try out each summer for a spot on the local Legion baseball team will graduate into the professional ranks.

Lambert said that because of the tremendous response of boys between the ages of 13 and 19 the City Recreation Dept. organized four teams of Babe Ruth League play for those boys who could not become members of the Legion-sponsored Chiefs team.

Try-outs are held each June, with 18 boys chosen, and regular league play is held between June and Aug. 15. This year the Chiefs captured the Waubung League title only to be defeated by Escanaba in the district tournament. Waubung League is composed of teams from Manistique, Escanaba, Powers and Cooks.

The Legion has been sponsoring a team since 1948 when the local Post realized there was no baseball activity available for boys after they finished their Little League stint. Volunteer help this summer came from Jack King and Ollie Rehn, co-managers of the team, with Bill Cowman as business manager. Lambert served as coordinator with an assist from City Recreation Director Dick Bonifas.

Along with the Legion's sponsorship of the Chiefs, financial assistance has been given by local industrial firms, unions, and the City Recreation Department. Normally expenditures run about $300 a year but this year new uniforms and some equipment were needed which strained the Legion's budget. The only paid official of the team is the umpire who receives $10 per game, business manager Cowman said.

American Legion sponsorship of baseball for 13 to 19 year olds is a nation-wide effort Lambert said.

Woman Hijacks Plane To Cuba

MERIDA, Mex. (AP) — A 35-year-old woman from Argentina, who said she found life in Mexico intolerable, hijacked a twin-engine turboprop airliner with 17 persons aboard Sunday and ordered the pilot to fly to Cuba.

Mexican authorities said the woman, identified as Judith Vazquez, entered the cockpit and pulled a gun from beneath a white shawl. The pilot, Captain Ricardo Erosa Troyo, said that after ordering him to fly to Cuba the woman said hysterically, "I'd rather be killed or jailed in Cuba than return to Mexico."

Five Get Off
The incident took place as the Aeromaya plane flew over Mexico's Isla Mujeres, the "Isle of Women," on its way to Merida. After seven hours in Havana, the plane, which carried 14 passengers including three Americans and a crew of three, returned to Merida Sunday night. In addition to Mrs. Vazquez and her daughter, Silvia, 12, and a two-month-old son Ernesto, two unidentified women passengers remained in Havana. It could not be learned if they were connected with the hijacking, the 19th since Jan. 30.

In Havana, Mexican Ambassador Miguel Covian, who arranged for the release of the passengers and plane, said he found the hijack difficult to explain "when there are regular commercial flights between Mexico and Cuba."

Michigan Passengers
Airline officials said the woman had boarded the plane earlier in Mexico City with a round trip ticket and was on her way back.

Capt. Erosa said the woman told him she had lived in Mexico for six years. He said the woman gave no information about her husband or any of her activities.

When the plane flew over Cuban soil, Erosa said, the woman collapsed and threw away the pistol in the cabin "but it was already too late to turn back because the fuel was low."

The Americans aboard were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bruce of Michigan and Dr. Irving Tovar of New York. No addresses or hometowns were given.

Rolling Stone Gathers No Moss, Or Bride Either

LONDON (AP) — Mick Jagger says he's happy about the prospect of becoming a father—but the lead singer of the Rolling Stones says he has no immediate plans to marry the girl.

Here's the way the 24-year-old entertainer put it today after his girl friend, pop singer Marianne Faithfull, 22, disclosed she was expecting: "I don't think we will wed. We don't think it's necessary. I am definitely not anti-God, but the consecration of one's union is a personal matter and nothing to do with the legality of the state."

Marianne, who already has a husband and a 3-year-old son, went along with this reasoning. She told a reporter: "We are not the marrying sort of people. It works out well as it is, so why risk spoiling it?"

Marianne has been living apart from her artist husband, John Dunbar, 25. They married when she was 17 and attending a Roman Catholic convent school. Dunbar has told his lawyers to start divorce proceedings.

Marianne is living in a $250-a-week rented mansion in Ireland where Jagger is making a film.
